The Trinity University Athletic Training Staff will be available to assist in providing the best possible medical care to all student-athletes. The athletic training room is located on the 1st floor of the Bell Athletic Center - Room 121. The athletic training facility offers a variety of hot and cold modalities, along with hydrotherapy, electrical stimulation and ultrasound. The office is supported by three certified athletic trainers led by head athletic trainer Marc Powell.

A Trinity University athletic trainer will be on-site for all home varsity events. If your team is traveling without a certified athletic trainer, advance notice is appreciated. In addition, all teams whether traveling with or without a certified athletic trainer should bring a fully stocked medical bag with all necessary supplies as well as a letter for all electrical modality use.

Water, ice bags, cups and biohazard supplies will be provided on your bench. Emergency supplies including an AED, crutches, splints, spine board, etc., will also be available should the need arise.

A team physician will be on call for all events, and can be reached through one of our staff athletic trainers.

The Trinity University athletic training room will try to accommodate all reasonable requests. If you are in need of any additional supplies or information, or if we can be of service to you in any way, please do not hesitate to contact a staff member.

ATTRACTIONS

From downtown to uptown and all around the city, San Antonio offers an array of attractions to fill your days and nights with entertainment, exploration, education and just plain fun! The city offers visitors history, romance, sports, family fun, adventure and the arts. Spanish mission, museums, theme parks, art galleries, antique shops, historic districts, botanical gardens, golf courses, horse racing, water parks and a Mexican market are part of the recipe for fun in San Antonio.

THE MISSIONS

San Antonio Missions National Historical Park
Visitor Center: 6701 San Jose Dr. (78214)
(210) 932-1001 www.nps.gov/saan/

The chain of missions established along the San Antonio River in the 18th century are reminders of one of Spain’s most successful attempts to extend its New World dominion from Mexico.

The Alamo
300 Alamo Plaza (78205)
(210) 225-1391 www.thalamo.org

On the east side of Alamo Plaza is the most famous spot in Texas where 189 defenders fell on March 6, 1836, after repeated attacks by Mexican General Santa Anna’s army. Mission San Antonio de Valero (The Alamo) was established in 1718 as the city’s first mission. The chapel, one of the most photographed facades in the nation, and the Long Barrack are all that remain of the original fort. The Long Barrack Museum and Library are near the chapel. The museum contains relics and mementos from the Republic of Texas and offers narration on the fall of the Alamo. The Alamo is located in the heart of the city, inside beautifully landscaped grounds.

Mission Concepción
807 Mission Rd. at Felisa St. (78210)
(210) 534-1540

This handsome church looks essentially as it did 200 years ago. From 1731, religious festivals were held as friars strove to replace traditional Native American ritual by the demonstration of Christian ideals. Remnants of wall and ceiling paintings in the surviving rooms of the mission’s convent have been conserved. Wayside exhibits lead visitors around the grounds and through the various rooms. The site also features a visitor contact station and a sales area.

Mission San José
6701 San Jose Dr. (78214)
(210) 932-1001

Founded in 1720 by Fray Antonio Margil de Jesus, San José became the largest and best known of the Texas Missions and was viewed as the model among Texas missions. After early setbacks, the vast fields and herds of livestock sustained 300 inhabitants. The carvings on the church are notable features. The famous “Rose Window” is considered one of the finest pieces of Spanish Colonial ornamentation in the country. Other features are the convent area and the stairway to the belfry and choir loft – each of the 25 risers was hand-hewn from a single live-oak log and constructed without nails or pegs. Also featured is a granary with flying buttresses, a gristmill, restored defensive walls, quarters, and an amphitheater.

Mission San Juan
9101 Graf Rd. (78214)

Established along the banks of the San Antonio River in 1731 after relocation from East Texas. With rich farm and pasturelands, it became a regional supplier of agricultural produce that helped support the missions, local settlements and presidio garrisons. The chapel, with its open bell tower is still in use. A more elaborate church was never completed. The site includes a self-guided nature trail.

Mission Espada
10040 Espada Rd. (78214)
(210) 627-2021

In 1731, after their retreat from East Texas, the founders of San Francisco de los Tejas moved the mission to the San Antonio River and renamed it San Francisco de la Espada. Espada appears as remote today as it did in the mid 1700’s. It boasts the best-preserved segments of the historic acequias (the irrigation system designed to provide water for crops) part of which includes the still working Espada dam and aqueduct. In 1995, the ranch that once supported Mission Espada, Rancho de las Cabras near Floresville, became part of the National Historical Park and is currently open on a limited basis.
Paseo del Rio, in the heart of downtown, is the pride of the city. Lush green foliage lines the banks of this peaceful, historic river. Cobblestone walkways lead visitors to the river level restaurants and shops. The river bubbles to the surface on the grounds of University of Incarnate Word and flows to downtown, threading its way through the city one level below the hustle and bustle of city streets. First called Yanaguana by the Payaya Indians, meaning “place of refreshing waters.” Along the horseshoe shaped riverbend, the river is shaded by towering cypress, oaks, and willows and bordered by gardens of flowering ornamental plants. River cruisers travel the River Walk’s three miles past unique retail shops, restaurants and nightclubs.

Since 1968, 750 foot tall Tower of the Americas has offered residents and tourists of San Antonio, the most breathtaking view of the Alamo city. Visitors dine at the Tower’s revolving restaurant or enjoy the scenery from the observation deck. Now, Landry’s Restaurants, Inc. has taken the experience to a whole new level. Among the improvements are an upscale eatery, banquet facility and a Texas-themed 4-D, multi-sensory theater.

From early morning until late at night, Market Square is alive with activity. Visitors browse through the 32 shops at “El Mercado”, an area patterned after an authentic Mexican market. In addition, there are 80 specialty shops in Farmers Market Plaza. Market Square is also the scene of many Hispanic festivals where food and beverage booths spring up alongside the Guadalajara lamps and the strains of mariachi music blend with the excitement of Mexican dances.
